Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following document:

D1: ADAMU ZEGEYE: "Acceptability of Injera with stewed chicken" FOOD QUALITY AND PREFERENCE, vol. 8, no. 4, 1997, pages 293-295, XP002276233

2. Document D1, which is considered to represent the most relevant state of the art, discloses (cf. paragraph titled "Materials and Methods") the preparation of tef injera from tef grains, from which the subject-matter of claims 1 and 19 differs in that the falling number of the tef grains at the moment of grinding is at least 250.
- 2.1. The subject-matter of claims 1 and 19 is therefore new (Article 33(2) PCT).
3. The problem to be solved by the present invention may be regarded as the provision of teff flour, from which stable food products having an attractive taste and texture can be prepared.
4. The solution to this problem proposed in claims 1 and 19 of the present application is considered as involving an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT) for the following reasons:
The prior art does not contain any hint that would encourage the skilled person to use teff grains having a high falling number in order to solve the technical problem.
5. Independent claims 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 20, 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28 and 29 are also considered as being novel and inventive, because they directly and/or indirectly refer to claim 1, which specifies a falling number of at least 250 (cf. 2. here above).
6. Claims 2-13 and 23 are dependent on claim 1 and 22, respectively, and as such also meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.
